GIRL GUIDE NEWS

Bridport Girl Guides recently had their annual camp at Carnaroo, Paper Beach. The weather was kind. In true camping tradition the older Guides slept in tents while the younger ones occupied the bunkhouse. Saturday morning was taken up with outdoor cooking. A chicken stew was prepared and put into polystyrene boxes stuffed with papers to let it slow cook during the day. A selection of desserts, including chocolate self-saucing pudding, chocolate brownies, golden syrup dumplings and apple crumble were also prepared. The afternoon was spent taking part in a 'wide game' adventure, visiting an island to find treasure buried by pirates. It commenced with a "plane ride"- only to find the plane had problems so everyone on board donned their 'parachutes' and 'jumped', landing on the island. After safely crawling through a tunnel the Guides found various challenges which included cooking bush donuts, (yummy!) making more animals for the farm out of recycled materials (the pirates had either stolen or eaten the farm animals), getting their whole patrol across contaminated land using only 2 plank. A morse code message was written to go into a bottle requesting their rescue whilst they boiled the billy and made a meal. At this point a treasure box was located but alas, it only contained a compass point for direction. Following that direction through the bush they came to the beach where the challenge was to make a raft for their patrol to float away on. With some amazing square lashing to hold the rafts together they set sail...most to the bottom amongst a lot of laughter! Finally the treasure was unearthed near the pirate flag. Happy but a bit damp the guides chattered their way back to camp through the bush where they were ambushed by the pirates (Ranger Guides) with flour bombs and water pistols. This was probably the highlight of the camp. Once everyone was showered, it was time for dinner. Thank goodness it was already cooked.

Other activities included a traditional camp fire and Guides Own, bush nut craft, making bird feeders, splatter painting of pots, and rope challenges where they made a swing, a ladder and a seesaw. At 3pm Sunday a lot of very tired girls boarded the bus for home having enjoyed a great weekend.

Special thanks to our awesome leaders, Katrina Barnett, Rachael Knott, Maree Grace, Hayley Catlin, and Viv Sarich. Also to our amazing Ranger Guides, Zali Grace, Amelia Barnett, Rachael Watson, Tegan and Jemima Carins who are a true inspiration to our younger guides.

Thank you also to Travis Targett for the use of his bus and our bus driver Leigh Stevens for donating his time and expertise.

We have just had a heat pump installed in the Guide house thanks to a small grant from the Dorset Council. Playgroup and guides are now cosy for the winter.

SHIELD PROVIDES SPLITTERS' INCENTIVE

Contenders for the great Tassie Scallop Splitters' Challenge have been given some more incentive following the unveiling of a 'perpetual shield' to go on display.

The perpetual shield currently hangs on the wall of the SUPERFRESH SEAFOOD factory at Bridport, which employed both the winning individual and the winning team in last year's challenge.

Fashioned from a slab of stringy bark burl by Men's Shed members, it features the names of last year's top knife, Yoyo Tang, and best team Paula Barry, Anita Barry, and Karen Hayes.

After being a crowd favourite last year, the splitting races will be just one of the highlights of the Tassie Scallop Fiesta to be held at the Bridport Village Green on Sunday 4

August. The challenge is sponsored by Wanda Campbell, the daughter of a former splitter.

The commercial Scallop season is expected to open in mid July with a plentiful supply of scallops in time for the Fiesta. The Fiesta attracted more than 2500 people to the town in its first year, on what would otherwise have been a quiet winter's weekend.

This year the Fiesta fringe events will extend over 10 days from a launch on Thursday 25 July. Several events are being organised by the Fiesta committee, including a free family Fiesta event on the foreshore with other businesses joining the bandwagon to provide special entertainment over the period.

You can keep up to date with what might be on the programme on the Tassie Scallop Fiesta Facebook page.

Every child in Australia should have access to vital first aid knowledge and this interactive program is designed for children and their parents to have fun while they learn.

Parents are encouraged to stay for the entire session. The resources provided also enable adults to revise topics and continue to help raise awareness of personal first aid with your child.

UPDATE FROM THE MEN'S SHED

Hi to all from the Men's shed.

Not a lot to report from this meeting. Only a few members were present as most are on their annual holidays, migrating to warmer climate areas for the winter. We are getting the fences done. That will be a notable achievement as then we will be able to lock up and know that the shed is safe .

We have started our wood raffle. The wood is on the trailer waiting for the lucky winner. All the members that were there received a booklet. More are available by contacting me as listed below.

The raffle is 1 ton of wood donated by William Johnston. Tickets are $2 each or 3 for $5.

Stay safe everyone the weather is changing bringing a few frosts and a bit more rain. We know how that makes the road surface slippery. For those travelling drive to the conditions and get plenty of rests to avoid driver fatigue. Those staying home with open fires, make sure you chimney has no birds nest or other impediment to the smoke getting away. Chimney fires are not a nice experience and can be devastating.

Is your smoke alarm working?

THE NORTH EAST FIELD NATURALISTS CLUB

The next outing for Field Nats on the 8th June, will be a walk down the North East Rail Trail from Rocky Gully to Tonganah. Meet at the junction of Tonganah Road and the Tasman Highway at 10 am. for car pooling as this is a one way walk.

There are some interesting fungi showing alongside the Bridport Walking Track at the moment. Most of the little caps are easy to miss as they blend in with the undergrowth, but these are a bit easier to spot. Look out for them.
