BRIDPORT GIRL GUIDE NEWS

Spring has arrived bringing forth new life and potential in all living things. Puggle Guides embraced their potential by developing a concert for their beloved Dolphin, aka Lyn Commane. The Puggles (aged between 6 and 9), created a show to both welcome back Dolphin. The girls worked in areas that were both challenging and interesting to them. Some chose to create music, some art and others dance to express themselves and their growth since becoming guides. Parents were invited to join us. It was a resounding success. All girls will receive an Arts badge for challenging themselves in such a huge way. A contingent from the Bridport Dolphins gathered in Scottsdale to challenge other teams in the annual trivia night. All members of the group were connected to guides in some way, so the 'Guiding Lights' was formed. The group managed to take home first place in the trivia competition. The $100 prize money was donated back to the guides to ensure our little group remains fun and vibrant for the girls.

Guiding Lights
A power of knowledge

Older guides have been busy learning outdoor cooking and night hiking, knotting and making Friendship Bracelets. With daylight savings now here activities like Spotlight and other night-time hijinks will have to wait while camping and other outdoor activities take precedence.

FUNDRAISER FOR THE MEN'S SHED

UPDATE FROM THE MEN'S SHED

The October meeting had only a few attendees others are still enjoying their big island holidays chasing the warmer climate.

The decision was made to purchase a new MIG welder for the group and Mick has been assigned the role.

The container and the last piece of fence rebuild are on the manager's Table awaiting the approval. Denise, Mick and Kaye attended the 'North Eastern Advertiser' Cocktail Party. It was a good night. The food was great and so was the service. Those poor hostesses always seemed to coming up the stairs with a plate of very nice food, but the plates were always empty when they were going back down.

We are still doing our battery collection so if any body has any please bring them up to the men's shed . Stay Safe

THE NORTH EAST FIELD NATURALISTS CLUB

A successful weekend bi-annual get together was held in Bridport with members of other groups from Tasmania attending.

Mike Douglas led the twenty six visitors on a walk in the Waterhouse Conservation Area. During the walk, such topics as the long geological history of sand movement, dune stabilization, land clearance and drainage of the area, the Xanthorrhoea stem rot and Phytophthora root rot, were all covered as well as examining some of the 300 species of plants that go to make up the coastal heath habitat there.

A second walk on Sunday, was led by Scott Bell who took delegates on a tour of his property which is protected by a Tasmanian Land Conservancy Covenant. The group was interested to learn that a second species of Xanthorrhoea - the shiny grass tree - which grows quite specifically in the North East, and is classed as Endangered under the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act [EPBC] was present on his property and protected.

Next Outing:

On November the 9th, Field Nats will visit Scamander and the site of the Skyline Tier revegetation project. This successful project involved turning what was once a pine plantation back into native forest.

Meet 10am in the quarry car park on the land side, by the river near the old bridge, Scamander.

Contact Lou 0417 149 244 if attending for the first time.
