UPDATE FROM THE MEN'S SHED

Hello from the Men's Shed,
The new President, Dennis and his sidekick William, seem to be settling in to the job fairly well. We have had a visit from Geoff Marsh and had a bit off a chat about what and where we would like to see the men's shed proceed to in the next year and hopefully getting that underway.

Our new fence in the front of the yard is slowly progressing hundred by the rain weather.

Our next meeting will be on the 20th September so we invite new people to come up and have a cuppa. We not only need new blood but also new ideas. We had the privilege of having Jack and Malcom have their Birthday celebrations up here, with a BBQ and a chat .

Thank you to all that attended. It is good to here that our member Peter Edson is home and progressing well . We will look forward to you coming back up and giving us heaps Peter .

Drive to Weldborough and turn onto Emu Road, right next to the Weldborough Pub. Meet at 10a.m. at the car park about 800 m along Emu Road. This is the start of the Little Chook mountain bike trail, arguably one of the most beautiful trails in the Blue Derby network.

MT STRONACH: WALKS AND BIKE RIDES

A new edition of this booklet describing bush walks within the Mt Stronach Regional Reserve, previously known as the Mt Stronach Forest Reserve is now available. Many locals are familiar with the the walking track from Buckeyes Road to the summit, altitude 497 metres, from where there is a a spectacular view of the district.

Following road improvements by the Dorset Council, including the removal of gates, vehicular access is no longer a problem. The guidebook, which has detailed maps covers other walks on the range and also the Forester River Gorge situated within the state forest just to the east of the reserve. The North East Rail Trail skirts the base of Mt Stronach before climbing to Tulendeena Siding on the Billycock Hill. This edition has a new section devoted to bike rides on the trail and its surrounds. Included are several circuits that incorporate parts of the rail trail and adjoining forestry roads.

Written by Mike Douglas,
'Mt Stronach: Walks and Bike Rides' can be found at the Bridport Information Centre and the Scottsdale. Art Gallery Cafe.

Price $12.
